Tips for awareness and prevention

- Trust your instincts. If you sense something isn't right, get away from the area as soon as possible.
- Remain alert and observe people around you. Walk with your head up, avoid carrying too many items, show confidence while walking, and know your destination.
- If possible, have your phone ready and know where you are at all times. Call PCCPD at (520) 206-2700 for an escort from a police officer or community service officer.
- Report individuals of concern on campus to college police at (520) 206-2700 or dial 911, so that we can determine the safety of that person for the community and the individual themselves.
- Make mental notes of a suspect's race, age, sex, height, weight, hair, and eye color, physical build, and clothing. Note anything unusual about the suspect, such as scars, tattoos, unique clothing, strange mannerisms, or speech patterns that you can share with police.
